You'll even learn how to make rocks, a lighthouse, trees, and more with inexpensive, easy-to-find items.

Volunteer Appreciation

Penny Reedy

How to Rally Volunteers for a Beach Ready VBS

Stephanie Chase

Enlisting volunteers for VBS can seem like a daunting task. But it gets much more manageable when you can recruit throughout the year. This session will equip you with a month-by-month strategy for recruiting.

Teaching Kids to Overcome the World's Hot Topics

Stephanie Chase

The world is throwing hard topics at kids and confusing them with mixed messages like: "Do what makes you happy. You can be whatever you want to be. Love is love." Learn how to address these hard topics with kids and provide them with a biblical counterpoint to the world's narrative.

Raising Standards Instead of Lowering Expectations

Justin Green

Come learn strategies for fostering positive behavior, setting appropriate expectations, as well as dealing with the causes and effects of disruptive participants.

The Bible Is Incredible and Credible

Justin Green

Discover tools to make the amazing truths in Scripture come alive for kids. Help kids bridge the gap between the world they can see and God's incredible Word!

Leading a Child to Christ

Taylor Johnson

Conversations about the gospel with kids during and after VBS are some of the most important conversations we can ever have. In this breakout, we will discuss the Do's and Don'ts of leading a child to Christ to be better equipped whenever the opportunity presents itself.

Conflict in VBS

Taylor Johnson

While VBS is the most fun week of the year, conflict—to some degree—is inevitable. Whether dealing with a disgruntled volunteer or parent, communication breakdown, or shared space issue, this breakout will discuss ways to anticipate potential conflict and how to resolve conflict when it arises.

Five Essential Steps Toward a Safer Ministry

Christy Nance

Keeping children and volunteers safe is an important part of church ministry responsibilities. Doing this in VBS often requires balancing foundational policies and procedures with realistic safety practices. This conference will help you develop, execute, and maintain a safe and secure environment at church.

Are Your Kids Learning What You're Teaching?

Christy Nance

Review questions are great, but not all kids will raise their hands to respond. What if you could get every child involved—from head to toe—AND make sure they're getting the point of the session? This breakout will cover a variety of ways to increase participation and ensure understanding.

No Runaway Kites Here: Follow UP After VBS

Josh Renck

A good follow-up plan happens before VBS begins. This breakout will help you create a plan for following up with kids and families following VBS week.

Making VBS Count Year-Round

Josh Renck

Most churches see peaks in attendance during VBS, which then drops sharply in the days that follow. Is there a way to counter this drop and see VBS kids more throughout the year and get them connected in the church? This breakout will explore creating a balanced calendar of events throughout the year along with intentional touchpoints for connecting with kids who attended VBS.

Understanding the Kids We Teach

Jared Simpson

In this session we will look at how cognitive, physical, and social development of children impacts their spiritual development. How can we use what we know about kids to maximize our time with them?

Connect and Win

Jim Fiscus

Come explore intentional and relational strategies to connect with and evangelize students and adults.

VBS is for Everyone!

Klista Storts

Your VBS is filled with kids—kids of all ages, kids with different abilities, kids who've never been to church, kids who come 3–4 times a year, and of course, kids you see every Sunday. With such a wide array of kids, the challenge is making sure all kids feel welcomed and engaged. This session will equip you with practical ideas to make sure EVERY child is included at VBS.

Breakin' the Waves

Klista Storts

Even when you've done everything you can for a perfect VBS, there may still be a rogue wave or two that tries to dampen your plans. In this session we'll discuss how to anticipate those waves—how to break the ones you can and how to ride the ones you can't!

Breaker Rock Beach Packing List

Delanee Williams

What do leaders need for a successful trip to Breaker Rock Beach? During this session, we'll create a list of essentials to equip your teachers with for a successful week of VBS.
